

LinkedIn

ALEXANDRIA GENCHEV

(480) 769-4442 ♦ Troy, NY

gencha@rpi.edu

Portfolio

OBJECTIVE

Game programmer with 1+ years of experience with the Unity Game Engine, seeking internship or co-op roles as a technical artist, game designer, or software engineer for both the Spring and Summer of 2026.

SKILLS

Programming Skills

C++, C#, Python, Java, R, HTML, CSS, JS, LaTeX

Software Skills

Visual Studios, Unity, Unreal, Autodesk Maya, NetBeans, Spyder, Adobe Photoshop

EXPERIENCE

Programmer / Animator / Beta Tester

Aug 2024 – Present

The Molecularium Project (RPI)

Troy, NY

- Push the Unity 3D AR game to release by fixing bugs that arise from the beta testing
- Animate game characters
- Attend weekly meetings to discuss project plans and progress

Academic Tutor

Sept 2024 – Present

Advising & Learning Assistance Center (RPI)

Troy, NY

- Tutor Computer Science 1 (Python), Data Structures (C++), Calculus I and Calculus II
- Work with college students from all backgrounds

Webmaster

June 2024 – Present

After the Solar Tsunami

Remote

- Designed logo using Inkscape
- Designed and Programmed the company website to both provide company information and teach the public about solar

Intern / Mentee

Sept 2023 – Dec 2023

Matchmaker

Remote

- Learned HTML and CSS
- Provided a different perspective for inclusivity for the website

PROJECTS

Happy Medium The first game developed in my Game Development I class. I learned more project management and communication skills as I worked with 5 other students in different disciplines. Find it on my Itch.io page or (Try it here)

Karkinos Ascension The second game developed in my Game Development I class. I learned Unreal Engine and programmed using blueprints. I also furthered my communication skills as I worked in a larger team of 8 students. Find it on my Itch.io page or (See here)

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Computer Science and Games Design, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

2023 – 2027

Minor in Electronic Arts

Relevant Coursework: Game Development I and II, Intro to Game Programming, Data Structures, Computer Science 1, History and Culture of Games, Intro to Game Art, and 3-D Modeling.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Vice President

January 2024 – Present

Rensselaer Game Development Club

Troy, NY

- Plan meetings, coordinate guest speakers, and organize events